

Hi I'm Erica

An enthusiastic, self-motivated, adaptive and a fast-learning person with a broad range of interests in cosmetic development.

A qualified cosmetic chemist, which means that I get paid to imagine, design and produce every kind of skincare and beauty product imaginable. I was even lucky enough to be hired as Sales manager at a large company that supplies cosmetic ingredients to make products for a heap of famous (and fabulous) local and international brands.

As much as I love getting my geek on and fiddling with formulas to find the perfect recipe, I'm also desperately in love with everything "science and nature". And now, after years of developing my own range by gifting personalised cosmetic creations to friends, family, customers and international cosmetic trade shows, I've combined my passion and launched jess-ae™ www.jess-ae.com My very own brand! First brand globally to contain a green bio-degradable hydrocarbon and globally first cosmetic chemist to create cosmetics using this brand new molecule! How awesome is that. 😊

So there you have it. Every jess-ae product has been formulated, produced and sold by me. And because I'm responsible for every step of the process, I know exactly what is in each and every product. Better than that, I can even tell you exactly why each ingredient has made the cut. All ingredients used in any of my creations have undergone rigorous safety testing (never on animals) because I'm picky about what I'll put on my skin and I'd never sell or develop anything I wouldn't use myself.

I take your idea, and turn it into reality! The most essential thing is, I work as per your preferences and requirements. Whether you're looking to develop a unique formula from scratch, or you just need help tweaking a proven seller, I will work with you hand-in-hand to develop that perfect product!

Get your ideas turning and drop me an email info@jess-ae.com; together we can get awesome affordable products to the market.

Let's get started!
